Getting to Know George Program

Dear Christina –

After all these months of scheduling, I'm really glad you could join us today for your Getting to Know George program for the kids.

We get a variety of kids with different interests for our Winter Play-Cation day programs, and I do my best to program fun activities for them, though it can be challenging to please everyone. Your George Washington program was perfect for celebrating Presidents Day.

As you saw, I popped in a couple times to see how the kids were doing, and though you had a group of almost 20 kids of different ages (from 6 to 11), I could see they were all having a good time. They all seemed excited to know more about George Washington, and I myself learned a few interesting facts about our first President. I wouldn't be surprised if a few kids picked up a book at the library about him.

Plus, they really seemed to enjoy the comedy improv games, and it was great how you related the games to material, pretending to visit different places where George had been.

Let's stay in touch. I'd love to have you back for a spring program.

Sincerely yours,

Sue Gold
